

THE WEEK AHEAD

may 14th - may 20th

- Summer Wardrobe — Get Inspired — Get ready for beach days, picnics, and weekends in the sun. Pull out and/or start buying any summer wardrobe essentials so you are ready for all your summer plans.
- Summer-inspired Wardrobe for kids — Don't forget your kiddos! Start shopping for your littles summer clothes to make sure they are ready to enjoy SUMMER. This week, let's go through their closets and take note of what they have and what they need for this summer to make sure they are prepared to enjoy all the incredible weather ahead! - Memorial Day — Prep — MDW is almost here! If you're going to, this week/weekend is a great time to put up your decorations. If you're visiting someone, make sure to pick up a hostess gift, and finally, if you want everyone in some version of red/white/blue — make sure you plan what everyone is wearing and pick up what you still need.
- Find The Fun — Great Ready for Summer — Continue to think about your summer plans and get ready for what will be a great summer! We're sharing everything families need to enjoy a summer of fun in the sun!
- Find The Fun — Choose and book a photographer — Start thinking about your family photo. Are you traveling for the summer and want to hire a local photographer at your destination to take pictures on the beach? It also feels crazy, but the best photographers are already starting to book their fall sessions. If you have someone you want to use, contact them to get all their specific dates so you don't miss the window of opportunity to get (1) the photographer you want and (2) the date you want.
- Gifting — June presents + card provisioning — It's time for your monthly gifting haul! Look through your birthday calendar to see who has a birthday in June. Buy all their cards + presents at once, so it's as easy as wrapping or popping it in the mail before their special day!
